Retraction Notice

Codon Publications was recently contacted by the authors of MiR-185-5p measurement assists in reflecting Th1/Th2 cell imbalance, inflammatory cytokine production, and exacerbation risk for childhood asthma. DOI: 10.15586/aei.v51i3.810 requesting to retract their article. The request was made after retracing the data of the article and observing that some data need additional review and confirmation.

Adhering to the international guidelines established by the Committee on Publication Ethics, the Journal has determined these are grounds for retraction. Codon Publications regrets the academic record was compromised and apologizes to readers.
